

Denis

Denis Bisangwa is an entrepreneur, business leader, and real estate professional who is passionate about family life, intentional parenting, and community impact. He has extensive experience in business development, imports and exports, hospitality, and property management. As a founder and business executive, Denis has successfully built and scaled ventures across multiple industries, combining strong operational leadership with a passion for creating exceptional customer experiences.

Denis is driven by a vision to create sustainable businesses, develop people, and contribute to Rwanda's continued growth and transformation. Denis serves in marriage ministry and is committed to strengthening families through presence, mentorship, and meaningful relationships. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in International Business from Union University and brings a strong foundation in leadership and strategic thinking to his work.