

Lily

Lilian Ruter is a wife, mother, educator, and passionate advocate for healthy families and early childhood development. Together with her husband, Kagenza, she founded Butterfly Academy during and after the COVID-19 season, with a vision to create a nurturing early childhood development center where children can learn, grow, and thrive.

She holds a Master of Arts in Marriage and Family Therapy from Wheaton College and a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Her academic and professional journey reflects her deep commitment to strengthening marriages, supporting families, and promoting children's brain development in the earliest and most formative years of life.

Lilian is a loving mother of three children: Penzi, Iranzi, and Baby K. Her experience as a mother continues to shape her heart for children, parents, and family wellness.
